ONE YEAR ONE DOLLAR

In a card to the Courier-Journal Governor Bradley denies that he and Mr. Yerkes have ever quarreled or said an unkind word to each other.

The members of the Cleveland Cabinet all seem to be finding good jobs. None of them are returning to their farms to follow the noblest occupation of all.

The candidates for the county offices in Callaway county have signed an agreement not to make any public speeches. The few people in that county who are not candidates are to be congratulated.

If men who commit crimes against our women want to escape mobs in Kentucky, all they have to do is to get themselves hung by the law on the spot, or hustle themselves off to the penitentiary.

In Rockcastle county Justice is traveling on the lightning express. Telford Mize attempted to commit a criminal assault, was arrested, tried and given a two years sentence in the penitentiary, all within twenty-four hours.

Wm. P. St. John, Treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, died at his home in New York Monday. Early in the campaign he was forced to resign the Presidency of a big national bank because he advocated the restoration of silver.

Greece and Turkey are about to become involved in a war that may draw other powers into the fight. The Christians of the island of Crete are revolting against Turkish rule, and Greece has sent soldiers to assist them. Other nations threaten to take a hand.

Gov. Bradley has expressed himself on the Walling and Jackson cases in a way that satisfies his friends that there is no hope of executive clemency. In discussing them the Governor said: "I think both Jackson and Walling are great rascals, and I shall not interfere with the decision of the courts."

In the Indiana Legislature there is one negro, and this colored brother is making trouble. He has introduced and is doing his utmost to pass a bill providing that there shall be no separate schools, that whites and blacks shall all attend the same school. His labor is not being appreciated by his white colleagues.

In a recent editorial Henry Watterson said, in effect, that there is not a free silver leader in any community whom the citizens of that community, acting in their individual capacities, "would select to manage any private affair of importance." This reminds us of a letter an old friend, I have written to the Louisville Commercial, in which he said that the only people in Crittenden county who were progressive, who were improving their stock and farms were found in his political party. Having been young then, in fact in his first childhood, and was on this account excusable. Watterson is in his second childhood, and on this account is the more of charity must be shown him in his senile prattling.

T. J. YATES.

We announce Judge T. J. Yates, of Dycusburg, a candidate for the legislature. Judge Yates is well known over the district, having made a gallant fight for the nomination four years ago. He is now serving his third term as police judge, and during his official career he has become familiar with the statutory laws of the State. He has been an active participant in county and district politics for years, and his party usually honors him with a delegate ship whenever there is a convention. He is an original free silver man and during the last campaign he was the chairman of his district campaign committee, and the result of the election in his precinct shows that he was not a laggard in the great fight; the precinct having changed a Republican majority of 39 in the Bradley election to a Bryan majority of 108 in the last election.

Judge Yates is a man of good, sound judgment, full of energy, perfectly honest, and always ambitious to fulfill every promise made or implied to his constituents. He has both the capacity and energy to make the district a useful representative. He desires the people to consider his qualifications, fitness and claims.

J. A. WHEELER.

We announce Mr. J. A. Wheeler a candidate for assessor. Mr. Wheeler is one of the energetic, reliable young men of Flatlick—one of the Gibraltar precincts of his party in the county. Around his home he has lots of friends, and they were anxious for him to make the race, and wanted him to circulate a petition calling him out, but he objected. He is 27 years old, an industrious farmer; he was educated in the public schools and is amply qualified for the duties of the office; he has always been a faithful Republican and his claims are entitled to consideration, and he would appreciate the nomination, and if nominated he would make a good final fight.

A GOOD LETTER

From the Clerk of the Circuit Court.

Fernandina, Fla., Feb. 27, '96
Mr. J. George Shuler, Druggist, city.
Dear George: Please send a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I would not feel easy if I knew there was none of this valuable Remedy in the house. I have given it a fair test and consider it one of the best remedies for croup that I have ever found. One dose has always been sufficient, although I use it freely. Any cold my children contract yields very readily to this medicine. I can conscientiously recommend it for croup or colds in children.

Yours respectfully,
Geo. E. Wolff.

Card of Thanks.

TOLU, Ky., Feb. 14.
I take the opportunity through the Press to return the thanks of myself and family to the good and kind friends of Marion in the substantial assistance to us in our misfortunes, and also to the many friends and neighbors of Tolu who have been so kind to us. We would never have known how many kind friends we have had it not been for our misfortune. We return our grateful thanks and will try to be deserving of their kindness.

MARCH 20 THE DAY

For the Execution of Jackson and Walling.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 16.—Jackson and Walling, the murderers of Pearl Bryan, will get their just punishment at last. They must die on the gallows. Every effort to save their necks has been exhausted and they are now doomed. Gov. Bradley acted upon the case yesterday, and the suspense is over today, for he has fixed March 20 as the date of the two murderers' execution. The news was telegraphed at once to the Newport jail, where Jackson and Walling were waiting in fear and trembling.

A Millionaire Hanged.

Union, Mo., Feb. 16.—Dr. Arthur Duestrow, the St. Louis millionaire, who on Feb. 13, 1894, shot and killed his wife and child in that city, was hanged here in the courtyard of the county jail at 12:55 today. A few hours before the execution took place Duestrow threw off the mask of insanity, sobbed like a woman and admitted that he killed his wife and babe.

Caldwell County Republicans.

Princeton, Ky., Feb. 15.—The Republican County Committee of Caldwell county met today in the G. A. R. Hall and decided to hold a primary election on Saturday, April 24. A committee was appointed to confer with the sound money Democrats in reference to fusion.

AROUND ABOUT US.

A fatal shooting took place this morning at Rugland, in this county. Robert McGill twice shot his wife Rosa, with a Winchester rifle, inflicting frightful wounds, from which she has doubtless died ere this reaches the eyes of our readers.

According to report, the murderer and his wife have separated on two previous occasions, owing to the husband's intense jealousy of his brother, Jim, and were quarreling. Fearing that she would leave him this time for ever, he jerked his rifle from the wall and opened fire upon her. While his wife was running from the house he fired two shots at her, both of which took effect in her body, producing frightful wounds, from which the woman can not possibly recover.—Paducah News.

Harry Morris, an aged and highly respected citizen of Smithland, died at his home Thursday of pneumonia.

Judge Charles H. Thomas died at his home in Paducah on Friday last. He was at one time Commonwealth's Attorney of the Third Judicial District.

Spencer Hardin Page, a wealthy Christian county farmer, left his entire estate to a woman with whom he had been living, leaving nothing to his legitimate children.

The Hampton correspondent of the Smithland Banner says: "Prof. N. R. Farris, of Salem, has been chosen as the assistant teacher of our school; he seems to please all, and we think him to be an able teacher."

The Trigg county grand jury returned only twelve true bills at this term. All of these indictments are only for minor offenses. There were

Dr. W. T. Graves was thought to be some better today about noon; he was attacked with the grip about two weeks ago and is unable to leave his room. His father, Dr. W. S. Graves of Dycusburg is with him. If he continues to improve he will be taken to Dycusburg Monday.—Paducah News.

The Lyon county Populists in convention assembled in Eddyville on Saturday, decided to get out no ticket for county officers, but to leave every man to his conscience as to what candidates of the other parties he would vote for.—Grand Rivers Herald.

The Paducah Register says: "The camp meeting which has been a feature of the Kuttawa Springs for several years has been abandoned. The grounds will be cleaned up and an effort made to get a first class summer hotel located there."

Mr. Homer McGrew, son of Mr. G. N. McGrew of Bayou, was married to Miss Eva Wood, at Gracely, Ky., last week. Homer is quite well known all over the county, is one of our most popular young men, and we join his friends in extending congratulations.—Smithland Banner.

Mr. A. M. Stevens drove on to a float bridge on Tradewater river last week and two mules were drowned. He came near getting drowned himself. The next day the mules and part of the wagon were found floating down the river.—Princeton Banner.

D. L. Pennington was placed in jail this week at the instigation of James Hogan, on account of a verdict of one hundred dollars given in a suit for damages. Pennington will remain in jail ten days and will then take the insolvent debtor's oath and be released.—Hopkinsville Kentucky.

At Guthrie, Ky., Mack Taliaferro killed W. D. Day, whom he accused of seeking to alienate the affections of his wife. In Warren county Bill Alford shot and killed Dave Merdeth, by way of settling an old grudge. In Breathitt county Miles Barnett was killed by Newton Trusty, in a quarrel over a dog.

The many friends of Mr. John W. Webb, of Smithland, in Paducah will be gratified to learn of the rapid improvement in his mental condition; he is now confined in the Hopkinsville asylum, having been there several months. It is believed that he will be discharged in a short time.—Paducah News.

Kuttawa, on Sunday morning last, suffered the loss of one of its most respected and estimable ladies when Mrs. A. B. Irwin passed into the great beyond. No woman stood higher and more deserved to stand higher in the estimation of the people than Mrs. Irwin. She had been a resident of Kuttawa since April, 1874, and was well and widely known, and no one knew her out to admire her many virtues and fine character.—Grand Rivers Herald.

There is one man in Kentucky who is determined to have business regarded less of cost. It is Charley Burton, who took the contract to carry the daily, except Sunday, mail from Burnside to Monticello and return—a distance of forty miles for the round trip—at the rate of one cent a year, but was determined that a rival should not have it, and the government, as a matter of course, accepted it. The government in this case departs from its usual custom and instead of paying the contractor quarterly pays him the full amount at the end of the year.—Ex.

On Saturday night last the colored people were having a festival, at the Masonic hall in this city when an unfortunate affair occurred which resulted in the death of Eugene Peebles. It appears that Harry Dodds and Eugene Peebles were disputing as to which should escort a colored belle home, and as the dispute waxed very warm they were told to go out of the hall. They did so and near the door Dodds drew a pistol and shot Peters in the lower part of the abdomen on the left side. The shot resulted in the occurrence.—Columbus Eastern.

Muir Hammett, the son of a prominent furniture merchant of Sturgis, Union county, was arrested early this morning at Frankie D'xon's resort on Court street, on a telegram from Sturgis requesting his arrest.

Hammett was seen by a Visitor reporter and he said he was wanted on the charge of being an accessory with W. Newcomb and E. Dyer, in detaining Mrs. Burnell Skinner against her will. According to his story Skinner runs a "blind tiger" in the country near Sturgis; he denies that he detained Mrs. Skinner, but says that Ed Dyer did.—Sunday Visitor.

Eddyville was first settled by Matthew Lyon, sr., in 1799 and incorporated January 13, 1810. It was twice the county seat of Caldwell county, and has been Lyon county's capital since the formation of the county in 1851.

Matthew Lyon came from Wicklow county, Ireland, in 1766. On the 17th day of February, 1801, he ended the seven days voting for President by casting his vote for Thomas Jefferson against Aaron Burr. His daughter was the first wife of Peter Lyon, sr., in 1799 and incorporated in Eddyville. He was the grandfather of General H. B. Lyon, and his remains rest in the Eddyville cemetery.—Eddyville Tale.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, God in his providence has called from our midst our venerable and beloved brother, J. G. W. Brooks, who died at his home in Fredonia, Caldwell county, Ky., Dec. 17, 1896, in the 76th year of his age. Therefore

Resolved, That in the death of Bro Brooks the church has lost one of her best and most honored and useful members, his aged companion a kind and affectionate husband, his children a kind and loving father, the community one of its best citizens.

Resolved, That we heartily sympathize with the bereaved family of our deceased brother, and that we will cherish the memory of our beloved brother who was always so kind and pleasant to all, and whose wise counsel we greatly miss.

Resolved, That we bow in humble submission to the will of God, who doeth all things well.

Servant of God well done. Rest from thy loved employ; the battle is fought, the victory is won; enter thy Master's joy.
Done by order of Caldwell Spring church Saturday before the first Sunday in Feb, 1894.
W. R. Gibbs,
Committee and Pastor.

In Memory.

On Wednesday Feb. 3, 1895, Mrs Elizabeth Brasher, wife of Mr James Brasher, of Dycusburg neighborhood Crittenden county, Ky., succumbed to that dread disease, measles; on the same day at 10 o'clock, Henry Brasher, son of Elizabeth and Jas. Brasher, yielded to the same, and the houses that were once made merry by their presence now knows them no more.

They had entwined themselves around the hearts of all who knew them, and in many places their loss will be felt. The sympathy is with all of the bereaved family in this great affliction.

Mrs. Brasher leaves a husband and ten broken hearted children, and a number of friends and relatives to mourn her absence, while her son leaves a wife and three little children; but remember dear husband, wife and children, your loss is their gain; while there is one more vacant chair at each fireside, two more angel voices are now swelling the heavenly chorus, around the Father's throne. And there where the faded flowers shall freshen and the bond is never severed and the trials all are over.

The remains of both were laid to rest at the Craneyard Thursday February fourth, where they await the call of the Master to arise. Many friends were present to look upon the faces they will never see again until we meet in Heaven. It is hard to break the tender chord when love has bound the heart, it is hard, so hard to speak the word,
We part, forever part.

Dearest loved ones we have laid thee in the peaceful grave's embrace but the memory will be cherished until we meet again beyond the dark river of death.

A Niece and Cousin.

THE TRUSTEES OF THE TOWN OF TOLU.
Town Entitled to Pass from the Sixth to the Fifth Grade
And the Town Trustees Take the Steps Necessary for the Contemplated Change.
The law of the State classifies all incorporated towns, beginning at the larger cities and going down to class six, which includes all towns with less than 1,000 inhabitants. When this law went into effect, the census of 1890, gave Marion less than 1,000 inhabitants and consequently our little city fell into the sixth class. Everybody knew this was not the modern Marion, but the old town before it began to grow so rapidly after the railroad reached us, and that the population shown by the Federal census was confined to the people who lived within the corporate limits, while outside of the boundary lines. Last year the corporate limit was extended, taking in a portion of what is known as East Marion. Last fall the board of trustees ordered a census, and the result showed that we had over 1,000 inhabitants, to say nothing of the growth south, west, and north. Had the extension been made on all four sides we would have 1,500, but as it is we have 1,100.
The proposition of changing from a sixth to a fifth class town is now being discussed. The change is made by filing the facts in the circuit clerk's office, and on the second day of circuit court, the Judge investigates the papers, and if the law has been complied with, and there is no well founded objection, the change is made by order of court.
There is no important difference between charters of the two classes. The Charters of the fifth class towns provide for a mayor, who has general supervision of city affairs, and whose duty it is to see that all ordinances are strictly enforced; he presides over the meeting of the city council and has a vote only in case of a tie. He is elected every four years. The city council is composed of six members, elected every two years. The salary of the mayor can not be over $75 per annum. The city marshal is appointed by the council for two years, but may be removed at any time. Towns may vote upon the local option question, and the council has no right to refuse license to sell liquor if the local option law is voted down. Under sixth class charters the tax rate can not be higher than 50 cents, and under fifth class it can not be higher than 75 cents on the $100.

The trustees held a meeting yesterday and directed the town attorney to prepare and file the petition, asking the Circuit court to make the change.

POSTPONED ANOTHER WEEK.
It is the desire of the patrons that the re-opening of the school be deferred another week, therefore we will not begin until Monday, March 1.

RESIDENCE BURNED.
Freeman's Cottage on Depot Street, Licked Up.

This morning at three o'clock Marion was aroused by the ringing of bells, and the cry of "fire! fire! fire!" The people rushed out of their houses to find the pretty cottage residence of Mr. W. M. Freeman, on Depot street burning. Every effort was made to save the building, but when it was seen that this could not be done, the household goods were quickly carried out, and the energies of the workers directed to the protection of Dr. J. H. Orme's residence. By dint of hard labor this building was saved.

Mr. Freeman had $1250 insurance. The fire originated in an outhouse, near the main building, but how it started no one knows.

Had the extension been made on all four sides we would have 1,500, but as it is we have 1,100.

The proposition of changing from a sixth to a fifth class town is now being discussed. The change is made by filing the facts in the circuit clerk's office, and on the second day of circuit court, the Judge investigates the papers, and if the law has been complied with, and there is no well founded objection, the change is made by order of court.

There is no important difference between charters of the two classes. The Charters of the fifth class towns provide for a mayor, who has general supervision of city affairs, and whose duty it is to see that all ordinances are strictly enforced; he presides over the meeting of the city council and has a vote only in case of a tie. He is elected every four years. The city council is composed of six members, elected every two years. The salary of the mayor can not be over $75 per annum. The city marshal is appointed by the council for two years, but may be removed at any time. Towns may vote upon the local option question, and the council has no right to refuse license to sell liquor if the local option law is voted down. Under sixth class charters the tax rate can not be higher than 50 cents, and under fifth class it can not be higher than 75 cents on the $100.

The trustees held a meeting yesterday and directed the town attorney to prepare and file the petition, asking the Circuit court to make the change.

POSTPONED ANOTHER WEEK.
It is the desire of the patrons that the re-opening of the school be deferred another week, therefore we will not begin until Monday, March 1.

Chas. Evans, Principal.
RESIDENCE BURNED.
Freeman's Cottage on Depot Street, Licked Up.

This morning at three o'clock Marion was aroused by the ringing of bells, and the cry of "fire! fire! fire!" The people rushed out of their houses to find the pretty cottage residence of Mr. W. M. Freeman, on Depot street burning. Every effort was made to save the building, but when it was seen that this could not be done, the household goods were quickly carried out, and the energies of the workers directed to the protection of Dr. J. H. Orme's residence. By dint of hard labor this building was saved.

Mr. Freeman had $1250 insurance. The fire originated in an outhouse, near the main building, but how it started no one knows.

TOLU.

Mr. T. J. Lear has been able to sit up some.
Mrs. Mary Minner is much better this week.

Charlie Brown, the boy preacher, is with us in the meeting.

Miss Edna Moore is visiting relatives in the Siloam neighborhood.

Miss Abbie Weldon returned Sunday from a two months visit near Salem.

Mr. E. E. Thurman and family will spend a two week's vacation with relatives at Fords Ferry.

Misses Addie, Mamie and Maggie Franks of Marion graced the town with their presence last week.

The stockholders of the People's Store had a meeting last Tuesday and elected some new officers.

The once well known Croft Barnett Mercantile Co. is now no more. In the regular meeting held last Monday the firm was changed to T. S. Croft & Co., with W. L. Staton as head manager, P. B. Croft assistant. J. C. Wolf sold out and will probably go on the road again.

GUESS-CLARK.
Wednesday evening, after the sun had sent forth its last rays from beyond the western skies, and a silent shadow came creeping in from the eternal hills, the people, young and old, of the town with happy hearts gathered in at the residence of Mrs. Matt Clarke to witness the nuptial ceremony uniting the hand and heart of Miss Mary Clark to Mr. Eugene Guess, Rev. L. J. Millican performing the solemn rites which made them one. Mr. C. E. Weldon and wife were the attendants. After congratulations and the presenting of presents, most of the guests repaired to the church for divine service. This is a rare case, as both married their first love, which was formed in childhood. The bride is the daughter of Rev. R. S. Clark, deceased, and is our proficient organist. The groom is the son of Mr. J. W. Guess, a well known citizen of Crittenden and one of our best farmers. He is a partner in the firm of Guess & Weldon. We wish them a happy future.

THE BEST FERRYBOAT ON TRADEWATER
is at Belleville; it will amply suffice until the new bridge, which is now under consideration, is constructed.

Mr. Sandy Dean and wife recently closed a successful school at Shady Grove, and after visiting his parents a few days they will return to Texas their future home. Mr. Dean is one of our ablest teachers and his leaving will be deeply regretted.

Sure enough. Confidence finally reached the Bend! And what has it done for us? Entered the homes of many lenders only, and said, "ten per cent." One or two more pills of that kind will have us singing "over the hills to the poor house."

The Carrsville free silver club met on the 15th.
Charles Rondeau, the shoe drummer, was here last week.

Mr. Werten was with us on the 8th, telling us good bye.
Wallace Kemper left us last week for a two months visit in Indiana.

Judge Marble of Princeton has been here talking election to the boys.

Miss Kittie Coram of Lokes Chapel neighborhood has gone to Lexington to attend school.

Mr. Schwab of Marion made a flying trip through our town last week buying furs and eggs. John Wolf of Tolu also made a short visit.

We are sorry to lose our esteemed county man, Mr. J. M. Werten, but our loss is Paducah's gain, and we now say, hurrah for Grayton!

Mr. Fred Hodge had a public sale at his farm last Saturday. He sold five head of good horses averaging forty dollars. Such horses 5 years ago would have averaged one hundred dollars each; yet McKinley was elected last November.

Take Shaker Herbs for your blood.
TRADEWATER.

Wm Chandler died Feb. 8.
Mrs Alice Crowell is on the sick list.

We have had measles, young and old.
An owl got into H. D. Givens' stable and his horse killed it.

Sunday school and prayer meeting at Cave Spring have gone into winter quarters, but Bro Woodruff still comes the fourth Saturday and Sunday and preaches with all the earnestness of his soul.

Last Thursday was tie day on Tradewater and the boys were glad in the morning but mad in the evening, but they were liberal with the boys and gave them half straight and half seconds. They said that was what the single gold standard was good for.

REPTON.
Protracted meeting is now progressing.
Mr. Gillie Long is in Union county this week.

Repton can boast of three good looking bachelors.
Mr. Coy Walker of Mattoon is now wrestling with the measles.

Mr. W. M. Deval spent a few days with her sister of Blackford.

A R H cooned the log when he was a merry school boy, and didn't lose his overshoes either.

FREDONIA.
Miss May Wilson was in town Tuesday evening.

C. L. Duer and family moved to Franklin this week.

Miss Maggie Elder has been quite sick the past two weeks.

Lindsay Langston, of Lyon county, was in town Tuesday.

Miss Mattie Dalton, of Crittenden, was the guest of Mrs. G. E. Caldwell Tuesday night.

Bugg & Loyd are prepared to furnish every thing in their line of the latest styles, best quality and low prices.

Our trade has increased rapidly for the past two weeks, for which we are thankful to our customers, and ask all who are hunting bargains to give us a call.

The prospect is good at present for us to have one of the right kind of men for sheriff, to succeed the one we have now who would have been re-elected if he could have held the office another term.

LOLA.
J. E. Johnson went to Evansville last week.

Miss Bettie and Joe Clemens are improving slowly.

W. S. Champion has gone to Cincinnati this week to visit his sister, Mrs. Marion Stevens.

Fred Nelson and his charming wife of Dycusburg, are spending a few days with friends and relatives while on their bridal tour; they will go from here to Illinois where they will make their future home.

Office.
Biggest stock, best goods, lowest prices, at Weldon's.

A Waif at the Poor House.
Poor house keeper, Tom Lanham, was in town Tuesday and reported to Judge Moore that another pauper had taken quarters at the poor house without an order of court.

The little fellow is the offspring of Nora Wilson an inmate of the county's charity institution.

Charged with Seduction.
Yesterday Ophelia McEwen went before Judge Moore and had a warrant issued charging Wm Fritts with seduction. The affidavit states that Fritts, under promise of marriage, accomplished the downfall of the girl, who is under twenty-one years of age.

W. B. Shaw Dead.
Mr. W. B. Shaw died at the home of his son Pat Shaw, of this place, Tuesday morning. He was an old man and had been in failing health for several weeks, and his death was not unexpected. Mr. Shaw was truly one of the "old landmarks" of the county. For thirty or forty years Wayne B. Shaw has been a familiar figure in the county. He was an honest man.

Flanary-Daughtrey.
There was a pretty church wedding at Hebron Tuesday night, February 16th. The central figures of this important society event of the neighborhood were Mr. R. C. Flanary and Miss Maggie Daughtrey, two of the most popular young people of that section. The ceremony that united them for as husband and wife was pronounced by Rev. A. J. Bennett, in the presence of a crowded church.

After the ceremony a large number of friends repaired to the home of the bride's father, Mr. Lewis Daughtrey, a leading citizen of that part of the county, where an elegant wedding supper was served, and the next day at noon a dinner at the groom's home and the joyous occasions were celebrated in a way that made all hosts happy.

The young people have the best wishes of all their numerous friends and their barque moves out upon a placid sea, with the benedictions of a large circle of friends.

Gen. P. W. Hardin was in town Monday. He is traveling over the state in the interest of a free silver paper to be started in Louisville; he has been soliciting subscriptions to stock. The enterprise is now on a surd success.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of execution No. 1340, bona fide directed to me, which issued from the Clerk's office of the Crittenden Circuit Court, in favor of Jno. W. Blue, Jr., exr. Jno. Lamb, decd., against Sallie K. Dorr and others for the sum of six hundred and eighty six dollars and 15 cents, I, or one of my deputies, will, on Monday the 8th day of March, 1897, between the hours of 10 o'clock, a. m., and 2 o'clock, p. m., Court house door, Marion, in Crittenden county, Ky., expose to public sale, to the highest bidder, the following property (or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy plaintiff's debt, interest and costs), to wit:

One house and lot in the town of Marion, Ky., and known as the Marion Farming Mill property, together with all of its appurtenances, including engine, boiler, planer, resaw rip-saw, cut off saw, frizer scroll saw, grind stone, turning lathe, etc. See deed book, No. 4, page 195, Crittenden county clerk's office; levied upon as the property of R. N. Dorr and Sallie K. Dorr.

Terms, sale will be made on a credit of three months; bond with approved security required of the purchaser, with interest from date at the rate of six per cent. per annum, and having the force and effect of a replevin bond.

Witness my hand, this 16th day of February 1897.
JNO. T. FRANKS, S. C. C.

SOME BIG FIGURES.

Prodigious Numbers of Eggs and Fry Produced.

People who are interested in fish, whether as sportsmen or because of the money that may be made in the fish business, will find in the last printed annual report of the United States fish commissioners (1894) a most interesting lot of information mixed in with no end of data attractive only to fish cultivators. Even the statistics in the shape of tables of figures are reasonably certain to attract the attention of every reader. Thus no fewer than 34 different kinds of fish were kept under the fostering care of the commission, and the variety was great enough to include everything that any fisherman might need—the trout, the omanish, the salmon and the bass for the man with a fly rod; the catfish for the man with pole, bob and slakers; the shad, herring, cod, halibut, and whitefish for the man with nets, and the carp for the farmer anxious for a fertilizer for his field. Even the ladies who delight in aquariums might obtain from the report some what beautiful goldfish. Then, too, the numbers of eggs and fry produced at the hatcheries for distribution must prove interesting, for they were simply colossal. Of shad, for instance, in which New York readers are especially interested, no fewer than 3,514,000 eggs, 53,509,000 fry and 1,000,000 adults, in all 57,833,000, were distributed, besides more than 2,000,000 fry deposited in the rearing ponds at Washington for distribution after they have attained sufficient size to serve some other purpose than food for their cannibalistic and other associates. Of similar importance were the whitefish turned out for the lake regions—6,339,000 eggs, and 48,750,000 fry—while of pike perch, which many rod fishermen call pike, the enormous number of 5,000,000 eggs and 181,700,000 fry were distributed. Mention is also made of the 30,000,000 lake herring, the 25,871,000 cod, and the 75,528,000 lobster fry produced. By contrast, the 176 sun yearlings and the 272 golden ide distributed become of some interest. And when one remembers the great popularity once predicted for the carp, the number of carp ponds that were constructed, and the great wealth that each was to bring to its owner, one reads with interest that the total distribution of carp in the year was but 47,000. In the distribution various state commissioners received very large numbers to be planted as they saw fit. Ohio, New York and California, in the order named, were the most highly favored in this respect. The Ohio commissioners received 18,000,000 fry of the pike perch; New York got 5,000,000 eggs of the pike perch, 6,000,000 of the whitefish, 800,000 of the lake trout, 80,000 of the omanish, 60,000 of the Atlantic salmon, 2,000,000 of the shad, and 5,414,000 shad fry; California received 7,500,000 Quinalt salmon eggs.—N. Y. Sun.

THE LAW TOO GENEROUS.

Importers Object to a Practice Common to Many European Tourists.

Americans who are in the habit of going to Europe in the summer, and of taking the opportunity while there to lay in a store of mementos, will be pained to learn of the opinion of the Retail Dry Goods association of New York that altogether too much merchandise comes into New York free of duty, and that something ought to be done to induce returning travelers who bring in goods to contribute their proper share to the expenses of government. Mr. Bloomingdale, who represents the association, is going to Washington to see the ways and means committee of the house about it. He believes that the value of merchandise which comes duty free into New York every year is not less than $50,000,000. He complains that under a recent decision of the supreme court as to necessary wearing apparel a dressmaker may bring 40 dresses back from Paris, and bring them all through the custom house as her own. Mr. Bloomingdale and the dry goods men think that so generous an interpretation of the law is unfair to the importers who pay duties, and are going to try to have something done about it. There are those who believe that an extensive share of the acreage set aside for what is known as future punishment is to be devoted to persons, otherwise exemplary, who have smuggled dutiable effects through the custom house. The subject is a sad one, involving insinuations as to perjury, bribery, and plain and variegated greed which are depressing even to optimists who are able to doubt their truth.—Harper's Weekly.

Eggs from Kentucky.

Large shipments of eggs are spoken of more commonly as coming from the northwest, but that Kentucky does a share toward supplying the markets was shown recently by the shipment by one firm at Lancaster of 13,050 dozen in one day.

SAGE ADVICE.

How a Wife May Be Aroused from a Long Cataleptic Sleep.

"Pardon me, but is this Dr. Curely, the famous specialist?" inquired a worried-looking man standing on the station platform in a country town, addressing a broad-browed gentleman who was gazing thoughtfully out of an open window of the Pullman car.

"I am Dr. Curely," replied the gentleman, genially. "What can I do for you, sir?"

"Well, doctor," proceeded the anxious man, "I learned that you were to pass through here on this train and came to see if I could in any manner prevail on you to stop off long enough to see my wife, who has been lying in a cataleptic state for nearly two weeks. She is being attended by every physician in this town, and all those in the neighboring towns have visited her, and none of them have been able to do her the slightest good. They have exhausted their skill in her behalf, and yet she has not spoken a word nor evinced the slightest glimmering of consciousness during the whole time. It is not a matter of money, doctor. Name your fee, whatever it may be, and it shall be paid you in advance, if you will only give her the benefit of your superior skill and learning."

"It is not necessary for me to see the lady," replied the great man, cheerily, "and as for the fee, if you happen to have a good cigar about you, I'll smoke it with pleasure, and—"

"But, doctor, my wife—"

"Oh, do not worry about her, my dear sir! Simply remain out till half-past one o'clock to-night, and then tiptoe upstairs with all possible caution. Never fear; she'll wake up."

Then the train rolled onward. The anxious husband followed the celebrated physician's advice that night in fear and trembling, and mentally bowed in reverence before the great man's acumen when the wife of his bosom promptly sat up in bed and accused him of having been drinking.—N. Y. Journal.

The Use of Stoves.

Stoves, which concealed the fire, were in use in Greek and Roman households. The ancients also employed open tubes of metal or earthenware, and, in addition, heated their rooms with charcoal braziers. Grates, for the burning of coal, were employed two centuries ago in Great Britain. Many thousands of patents have been taken out upon stoves and ranges since Franklin and Count Rumford pointed out the waste of fuel and of heat involved in open fireplaces. In Great Britain and on the continent of Europe to-day flat sheet-iron vessels, somewhat resembling baking pans, covered and filled with hot water, are used to warm the feet of travelers in railroad cars.

Just So.

Lady—How old are you, little boy? Little Ducky—Well, if you go by what mudder says, I'spects I's six; but if you goes by de fan I's had, I's a hundred.—Tit-Bits.

A Pleasant Reminder.

Hewitt—You would make a loney laugh. Jewitt—I noticed you had hard work to keep a sober face.—Town Topics.
